

The 2th International Symposium on Gastrointestinal Microbial Ecology and Functionality

May 23-25, 2010

Nanjing, China

The first International Symposium on Gastrointestinal Molecular Microbial Ecology was held successfully in Nanjing in July, 2005. We would now like to invite you to attend the 2nd International Symposium on Gastrointestinal Microbial Ecology and Functionality in Nanjing in May 2010. Gastrointestinal Microbiology has become an important multi-disciplinary subject as the microorganisms in the GI tract are found to be functionally involved in the development, nutrition and health of the animal. This symposium will provide a unique opportunity for scientists from eastern and western to work together to share expertise on recent advancements and new visions for the future development of gastrointestinal microbiology.

Organizer

Nanjing Agricultural University (NAU)

Chairman

Zhu Wei-yun (College of Animal Science Technology, Nanjing Agricultural University, China)

Academic Committee

Chair: Liu Jian-xin (College of Animal Science Technology, Zhejiang University, China)

Co-chair:

Zhu Wei-yun (Nanjing Agricultural University, China)

Tan Zhi-liang (The Chinese Academy of Sciences)

Wang Yi-zhen (Zhejiang University, China)

Yao Wen (Nanjing Agricultural University, China)

Secretary:

Yao Wen (Nanjing Agricultural University, China)

Cheng Yanfen (Nanjing Agricultural University, China)

1. Conference themes

- (1) Gastrointestinal Microbial diversity in relation to nutrition and disease
- (2) Microbial metabolism of dietary components
- (3) Gastrointestinal Microbial interactions with the host
- (4) Nutritional manipulation of gastrointestinal microbial ecology

2. Conference Program

a. Date: May 23 - 25, 2010

b. Location: The Academic Exchange Centre of Nanjing Agricultural University (Hanyuan Hotel)

c. Schedule

Registration Hours: Registration hours will be the whole day of May 23
